LAND GRAB: North Oxfordshire and South Northants want to break away from their counties to form their own superposh district

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A large chunk of Northants with a population of 90,000 people could break away from the county to form a new authority in Oxfordshire.

Neighbouring Oxfordshire County Council has put forward a proposal for four new unitary authorities – one of which would include South Northants Council.

The devolution deal would see South Northants Council – which homes Silverstone, Towcester and Brackley – join Cherwell District Council, in north Oxfordshire, as a new unitary authority – combining the powers of district and county councils.

The new council would serve 230,000 people and see Northampton become the southernmost point of Northants.

But the leader of Northants County Council is unhappy with the plans. Cllr Jim Harker said: "This does not appear to represent a good option for the people of Northants... Do we really want to lose a large chunk of our historic county to a neighbouring one?"

Westlife fan dies
but last dream
comes true

Former Westlife star Shane Filan fulfilled the dying wish of a terminally ill fan in Northampton whose final wish was to meet the star – just hours before she passed away.

Emma Clayton, 23, was given just three months to live last November after her skin cancer had spread.

Her sister Becky launched a campaign to make Emma's wish to meet Filan come true. And last Friday, the singer did just that.

Northants will not rehome
Syrian refugees

Cash-strapped Northants County Council has told the Government it will not be rehoming any Syrian refugees fleeing war, because of its current financial state.

Despite Northampton Borough Council promising last year that it will 'play its part' in taking in refugees, the county council scuppered those hopes yesterday with this announcement.

A spokesman for the authority – set to make £65m of cuts this year – said the 'existing pressure on services' has forced it to turn its back on taking in any of the 20,000 asylum seekers the Government plans to take in by 2020.

The spokesman added: "The county's population is growing rapidly and we have our highest ever level of unaccompanied asylum seeking children"

Your Choice Of Internal Finish

Option 1: UPVC Shiplap Cladding

The most popular internal choice for customers who are looking to solve temperature problems with their existing conservatory. The bright white shiplap internal system gives a stunning, maintenance free, light bright and airy finish to your room. With U-Values of below 0.15, the insulation will ensure there are no more Summer days that are too hot and no more Winters that are too cold.

Option 2: Plaster Ceiling Finish

The insulation system is fitted with adequate cross ventilation preventing condensation or sweating of the structure. Air vents are also fitted within the system for that extra peace of mind. Following careful installation the roof is finished off with plasterboard and a two coat skim finish. Once dried, you can apply a decorative finish of your choice. This type of finish brings the room to being part of the house again.

Editor's Letter

Hey, Oxfordshire – get your posh hands off South Northants!

As a relatively new face around town, a mere 20 years or so living here, I have noticed that Northamptonshire is at home with the unusual.

I've reported on some fairly uncommon things, some horrible, some hilarious, some frankly weird.

But this takes the biscuit. Oxfordshire is trying to steal South Northants.

Or perhaps South Northants wants to run away with Oxfordshire.

Either way there has been some municipal adultery going on.

The plan is actually to do away with Oxfordshire altogether and have four unitary authorities. South Northants including Silverstone, Towcester, Harpole, Stoke Bruerne and Castle Ashby would hook up with everything east of Banbury to create Cherwell (East Banburyshire).

How very share and share alike. How very modern.

The edge of the proposed authority would fit around the southern buttock of Northampton like the predatory jaw of a Isn't this the kind of totalitarian carve-up we didn't find the Cold War to avoid?

wolf. Isn't this the kind of totalitarian carve up of Western Europe we didn't fight the Cold War to avoid?

Granted, it is only one small bit of Western Europe, but they've got an outrageous cheek trying to take our motor-sport capital, our horse racing, our Roman settlement and our narrowboat mecca.

It's ironic that we've been chippy about Milton Keynes for years but it's Oxon and South Northants who have really been cooking something up.

I'm furious. Have we disbanded the militia? This is what comes of sharing backroom services.

What about every single marketing campaign for Northants in any part of the world? What about the funding that our tax pounds have put into creating infrastructure in South Northants that will now benefit a different local economy?

We should be angry, our councillors should be angry and if they are going to dignify this appalling plan with a response they should be angry when they do it!

BORN SURVIVOR: Turkles was shot with a gun, but survived becoming a festive dinner

Plucky turkey's new life as pet

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A turkey which miraculously survived after being shot in the head with a bolt gun has been saved from becoming dinner after finding a new home.

Farm staff were amazed to see the brave bird named Turkules pop his head out from a lorry of 15 tonnes of dead poultry, who had all met their festive fate.

The farmer couldn't bring himself to cause the turkey any more distress and kept him in a heated room with food and water in Cambridgeshire.

Now Turkules has been given a new life where he will be spoilt with three turkey wives after an animal lover beat competitors to take him home.

Animal charity Wood Green handed the bird over to dedicated animal rescuer of 15 years Angelina Norman, 53, from Northamptonshire.

"When I saw Turkules at the centre I just couldn't believe my eyes," Angelina said.

"Turkules is so handsome and I feel very honoured to have him.

"I had visited Wood Green as I often do to see if they had any chickens looking for a home.

"I just knew I had to have him and when I got the phone call to say he was mine I was quite overwhelmed."

Angelina already has a hoard of 50 chickens, three turkeys, guinea pigs, three dogs and three cats.

She says Turkules is settling in well and has set off to a good start with his future wives, adding: "He's very interested in them and is stomping around to impress them."

Bright young things at work

Lawrence John finds out more about the apprenticeship scheme run by Cosworth

The reputation and heritage of Cosworth engineering group - which has its headquarters in Northampton - make getting an apprenticeship to join the firm something to treasure.

Cosworth has now unveiled a new campaign to promote its dedicated apprenticeship scheme.

The "Road to Somewhere" campaign will showcase life as an apprentice at Cosworth through a series of videos which will be released in the run-up to National Apprenticeship Week, starting a week today.

As part of its campaign, Cosworth has become employer partner for Northampton College.

The company will present at the college Careers Fair on March 9, one week before having a stand at the National Apprenticeship Show in Milton Keynes.

Hundreds of would be apprentices apply but these are whittled down to a lucky five who are selected for key apprentice roles available from September 2016, covering a range of roles and departments.

There are opportunities in quality control, engine build, production engineering, maintenance and CNC manufacturing.

Cosworth's approach to apprenticeships has already delivered talent with 100% of all apprentices staying on at the company in a full-time role.

Around 20 apprentices have gone through the scheme in recent years, with some now working at Cosworth's state-of-the-art Advanced Manufacturing Centre.

Successful applicants work towards a full engineering apprenticeship framework which includes a level 2 - NVQ3 extended diploma, a level 3 technical certificate, functional skills in maths, English and ICT, as well as gaining first-hand practical skills in a thriving industry, at a company with an exciting future. Head of communications and partnerships at Cosworth, Pío Szyjanowicz said: "The heritage of Cosworth is something which all the boys and girls who become apprentices are aware of when they arrive.

ACTIVE LEARNING: Ryan Johnston working at the Cosworth factory

"We give male or female an equal opportunity to become engineers.

"We are very fortunate we are looking after this heritage and reputation which has been built up over 50 plus years

"For us now engineering is a state of the art business using state of the art technology.

"Teaching the apprentices to use the computers which work the robots is all part of their course and is a key function of their apprenticeship."

Cosworth's Human Resources Advisor, Sharan Bassi said: "We have a wide variety of departments into which we can place our apprentices and we have a demonstrable success rate with our scheme.

"We are fortunate in that we can offer permanent positions to our apprentices at the end of it all.

"Each apprentice is appointed a trainer who supports them every step of the way, so they become an integral part of the Cosworth family straight away.

"It's a very organic process and our apprenticeship scheme is the perfect opportunity for young people looking to start their engineering career.

"We want to ensure they have a successful career."

Top five county ghosts and where to spot them

Here is a spooky top five of ghostly apparitions which appear across Northamptonshire

Barford Bridge on the A6003 Kettering to Corby is the favourite haunt of a ghostly monk who appears on the road and even in people's cars.

2

At Salcey a tall monk wearing a black cloak and hood glides across a cornfield on the edge of the woodland.

3

At Milton Malsor ghostly figures pass from a driveway and into a walled footpath on the opposite side. The monks then walk through a bricked up doorway.

4

In Passenham there are reports of a luminous skeletal horseman with a broken neck seen being dragged along the road.

5

Between Harringworth and Luxton a Second World War serviceman saw a hooded figure in a long grey coat - but he was floating in mid-air.

Chunk of county could break away

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Plans for a large chunk of the county to break away and form a new authority with an area of Oxfordshire have been described as 'not a good option for the people of Northants'.

Oxfordshire County Council has put forward a long term proposal to replace itself with four new unitary authorities - one of which would include South Northants Council.

The devolution deal would see South Northants Council join Cherwell District Council, in north

Oxfordshire, as a new authority - combining the powers of district and county councils.

But despite the backing of Prime Minister David Cameron - who is the MP for Witney - the leader of Northants County Council is against the plans.

Cllr Jim Harker said: "While we are certainly not against the idea of redesigning local government this proposal for the creation of a number of small unitaries works against many of the bigger agendas in the region. We are delivering a sustainability and transformation plan based on county-based and county-wide health and care organisations - an approach agreed by health and social care commissioners. In addition to this our transport planning is via the England Economic Heartland so fragmenting into small unitaries does not on the face of it make sense and arguably would not enable our NHS partners to operate the most effectively."

Currently the district councils are responsible for planning applications, rubbish collection and housing - while county councils are responsible for education, transport, the fire service, waste management and trading standards.

Our aim is to offer an exceptional carpet and vinyl service, with quality products and materials. If a jobs worth doing, its worth doing well.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has received the coveted 'Which? Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough

& Corby areas and manager Trevor Skidmore agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise. So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

'This gig is for you, Emma ...'

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.

A terminally ill Westlife superfan died at her home in Northampton just hours after being granted her final wish - to meet the former band's lead singer Shane Filan.

Emma Clayson, aged 23, passed away on Saturday morning after her battle with skin cancer, which she was told last November had spread and become terminal - giving her just three months to live.

The former Northampton Academy and Northampton College student had touched the hearts of thousands around the world last week after making her final wish to meet Shane.

And thanks to an online campaign by her sister Becky, 21, the ex-Westlife singer jumped on a plane from Ireland and granted her wish on Friday afternoon.

The Irish singer sat by her bedside at her family home in Great Billing for over an hour, holding her hand, talking to her, and then giving her a hug and kiss - leaving her with 'the biggest ever smile on her face'.

But two days later, sister Becky announced the sad news that Emma had passed away on Saturday - just 18 hours after meeting Shane.

"I am so heartbroken and lost," she wrote on Facebook. "My Emma passed away peacefully yesterday morning at 9am at home."

"My amazing sister has been taken away from me too early!! I am so heartbroken and so ANGRY that it happened to my beautiful Emma!"

"I hope she's with our daddy looking down at me! I LOVE YOU WITH ALL OF MY HEART MY ANGEL IN THE SKY"

Shane has promised to dedicate his gig at the Royal and Derngate this Saturday to her.

Record-breaking year for cycle ride

Organisers of the county's annual fundraising bike ride have honoured the Northampton businessman who founded the event, helping to raise £400k for local good causes.

The seeds for Cycle 4 Cynthia were sown in 2003 when keen cyclist John Pinkham, who had ridden in fundraising events in Mexico, Cuba and Jordan, got a small group of friends to join him on a pedal around the county in aid of Cynthia Spencer Hospice.

A year later, when the Hospice launched a £1.5m appeal, John decided to extend the invitation to families, businesses and cycling enthusiasts, with the result that more than 450 riders took part and raised £35k.

Twelve years on, thousands of riders have leapt into their saddles - and just last month the launch of this year's ride - which takes place on September 25 at Holdenby House - was held at Franklin's Gardens, where it was announced £74k was raised last year.

The launch saw the presentation of trophies to those who rode in 2015; the Melbourne Arms in Duston took the biggest team title with 41 riders, 79-year-old Alan Sturgess from Finedon raised the most sponsorship of almost £1,100, a team from Nationwide retained the fancy dress prize for cycling in food costumes, while the chairman's award went to Matthew Collinson, 13, from Brackley in recognition of the spirit he showed after coming off his bike just a mile from the finish.

The presentations were made by Saints coach and Jim Mallinder, along with players Tom Wood, Ethan Waller, Sam Dickinson and team manager Paul Shields.

MAKING A STAND: The campaigners at the Guildhall want to see an end to China's occupation of Tibet

Hundreds see Dalai Lama's rep raise Tibetan flag

Over 100 people turned out to watch the Dalai Lama's representative raise the Tibetan flag in Northampton town centre on Tuesday.

Chonpel Tsering was joined by Northampton Mayor Penny Flavell for the annual event - now in its 17th year in the town - at the Guildhall.

Caroline Scattergood, a Free Tibet campaigner who helps organise the event every year, started the event inside the hall with a screening of a four-minute film to highlight what Free Tibet is all about.

The musical theme chosen for the event was 'No Matter What' by Boyzone, which includes the lyrics 'and I will keep you safe and strong, sheltered from the storm'.

These lyrics were used to reflect on the thousands of Tibetans who have been forced to live under the occupation of China, which invaded the nation in 1950 and have since killed more than one million Tibetans - which is 800,000 more than the number of people killed in the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombings.

China has also closed 99 per cent of Tibet's monasteries, jailed thousands of monks and banned Dalai Lama images.

The hour-long event in Northampton was marked with a flag raising ceremony outside the hall which saw the Tibetan flag go up.

School to move in as cops leave

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Part of the Wootton Hall Park site where the Northamptonshire Police Headquarters is located will be turned into a school.

On Tuesday, Police and Crime Commissioner for Northamptonshire, Adam Simmonds, announced a heads of agreement has been reached between his Office and the Education Funding Agency (EFA) for the sale of part of the Wootton Hall Park site, which currently houses Northamptonshire Police Headquarters.

Following a public consultation on the future of the site, Commissioner Simmonds will over the coming weeks finalise a phased exit plan with Northamptonshire Police.

The proposed sale to the EFA will see the site used as a base for the new Wootton Park School.

The decision comes two weeks after the Commissioner formally approved the construction of two new Northamptonshire Police buildings in the north of the county - the Northamptonshire Police Investigation Centre and Northern Accommodation Building, situated just off the A43 next to the A6003 between Kettering and Corby

- following discussions with Chief Constable Simon Edens. It is anticipated that building work will be completed by spring 2017, while the new premises will provide work space for approximately 350 staff.

Adam Simmonds, Northamptonshire Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "I'm delighted to have reached the stage of heads of agreement with the Education Funding Agency for the sale of part of the Wootton Hall Park site. As both Chief Constable Edens and I agree, the current Police Headquarters is not fit for purpose, and will cost a significant amount to sustain over the next 25 years.

"Moving to new premises will save in excess of £40milion which will allow us to keep more frontline officers on the streets."

Over 6,000 pupils get place at preferred school

Families across Northants learned on Tuesday where they have been allocated a secondary school place for September.

Applications were received from more than 7,700 pupils - 500 (seven per cent) more than last year.

Ninety-five per cent of families have been allocated a place at one of their preferred schools, amounting to around 7,300 places.

And 80 per cent, which equals to around 6,160 of the aforementioned 7,300, have been offered a place at their first preference school.

Any families who are unhappy with the place they have been allocated can appeal through the independent appeals process.

Primary school allocations will be announced on April 18.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK

On track trainspotting

G Dirienzo

This week's blog comes from an article which appeared in the Northants Herald & Post called Confessions of a Northamptonshire Trainspotter

There is a famous British film called Trainspotting but it is a world away from actual trainspotting.

One of the dedicated trainspotters in Northamptonshire is Giovanni Dirienzo.

The 45-year-old from Kettering is one of the hardy band of train brothers who spend their own time and effort spotting the new trains and catching a glimpse of the rare and unusual trains.

Giovanni who has been a trainspotter since 1981 – 35 years – behind the sharpened pencil or marker, he is as keen today as he was when he was as 10-year-old when it comes to trainspotting.

He can recall spotting his first train as quickly as many of us could remember seeing our team win a cup for the first time or the first time we had ice cream.

For Giovanni the first train he spotted was a Class 45 Diesel which he spotted at Kettering Train Station.

Explaining what it takes to be a trainspotter, Giovanni said: "You need a notebook, a pencil, good eyes and your Platform Five books (These list all the trains and their numbers) and patience. I saw the Flying Scotsman this week at Peterborough Station and I have to admit I did get a buzz from seeing the train.

"It was exciting to see it again in action. For me trainspotting is a hobby and it is one I have enjoyed since I was a kid. I got my first Platform 5 book and I was away. My hobby has taken me all over the country collecting trains and numbers.

"I have been to Scotland and Wales to do my trainspotting and when you spot the train you have been looking for there is a great feeling of satisfaction."

He spends most days at Kettering Train Station where he is a familiar face in the crowd and also pops over to Northampton to see what he can see at the station.

I got my first Platform 5 book and I was away.

Keep Alive@Delapre and scrap fireworks show

This week the Northants Herald and Post reported that Northampton Borough Council rubbedstamped its budget on Monday, agreeing to get rid of the Alive @ Delapre music concert, while keeping the annual fireworks display. But our Facebook readers weren't pleased with this decision: SJ HOSBEY: Are you having a laugh who allowed this to happen? Alive goes, cuts to derngate etc!! But yes let's give more to a 10min firework display!! what a load of rubbish!! Northampton councillors hang your heads in shame!!

PAM WRIGHT: Would much rather have Alive at Delapre than a few minutes of fireworks! Plenty of other displays on bonfire night!

Churchill documentary highlights issue of stroke

Some of your readers may have watched the recent ITV documentary 'Churchill's Secret' which aired on Sunday 28 February.

During the summer months of 1953, Sir Winston Churchill, who was Prime Minister for the second time and in his late 70s, had a devastating stroke which was kept secret from the world.

60 years ago, little was known about stroke and it was viewed by many health professionals as a sad, but untreatable condition. Despite the efforts of the leading neurologists in the country, Winston Churchill never fully recovered, though he continued in office until 1955. He sadly died in 1965.

Recent developments in medicine and research have transformed the way stroke patients are treated, and today far more people survive stroke. But there is still much more to do to help the 1.2 million people in the UK affected by the condition.

The Stroke Association is a charity, and we are proud to have funded pioneering research that has helped to save lives and improve stroke rehabilitation. We want to ensure everyone touched by stroke has the help they need. To find out more about the support we offer, your readers can visit www.stroke.org.uk. 'Killer spider bit my arm'

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A former Northampton Town loanee has told how he was rushed to hospital after being bitten by one Britain's most venomous spiders while sleeping.

Wrexham striker James Gray, who joined the Cobblers on loan from Accrington Stanley in 2015, was in his bed at his Manchester home when a false widow spider bit his right arm.

Over the next few days, the 23-year-old's arm began to swell and ooze yellow pus, while he was also developing a fever and struggling to sleep.

After seeking advice from a doctor, he was urged to go straight to A&E where he was put on a drip and taken for tests to find out what was causing the swelling.

Shortly after, James, whose veins were red and 'popping out' of his arms, was informed by medics that he had suffered a spider bite, and would have to undergo surgery.

And after medics cut out the infected area, the footballer was left feeling 'groggy' with a gruesome hole in his arm. And although he was released from hospital over a week ago, he is still unsure about when he will return to training.

Gray, who joined Wrexham last June following his spell at Sixfields, told the Daily Star: "They had to slice the infection out of my arm and it went quite deep."

"It started to pus out before I went for surgery and you can imagine how that looked and felt."

"But I have a lot of tattoos so maybe I'll get a Spiderman one when I am fully healed just to remember it."

Saints honour fan as inquest opens

PAYING TRIBUTE: Saints players and fans (inset) remember India Chipchase with a minute's applause

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER AND
LAWRENCE JOHN
news@hpnorthants.co.uk

An inquest into the death of a popular barmaid who went missing after a night out in Northampton town centre has been opened and adjourned.

The body of 20-year-old India Chipchase was found at a house in St James on January 31, the day after she disappeared.

Edward Tenniswood, 51, a book-keeper who lived at the house on Stanley Road where she was found, is due to go on trial in July for her murder.

Northamptonshire senior coroner Anne Pember told the brief hearing in Kettering that India's body was identified by her uncle Tom Risdale.

The second identification was carried out by Mr Risdale's sister, Morag Topham, at the mortuary at Leicester Royal Infirmary.

A doctor told the hearing that a post-mortem examination concluded that India, who was born on December 24, 1995, died as a result of pressure to the neck.

The hearing also heard that India's body was released to her family on Tuesday, February 23.

The inquest, which took place last Thursday, was then adjourned until August 17, 2016.

Just two days later, last Saturday, India was remembered in an emotional minute's applause at Franklin's Gardens – the home of the team she supported, Northampton Saints.

Thousands of Saints fans had gathered to remember India before their game versus Worcester Warriors last in which they won 38-18.

As well as being a big Saints fan, India – who had lived at home with her mum in East Hunsbury and worked at the Collingtree pub – was the girlfriend of rugby player Eavan Reihana, who plays for the Bordeaux Bègles in France.

When the news broke of her passing, Eavan paid a tribute to her on social media, saying: "I honestly can't believe to think even now that you have left us in that way Miss India Eve Chipchase. I will be playing for you for as long as I know."

Ex-Saints star Ben Cohen also paid tribute at the time, tweeting: "So sad and devastating and on our doorstep. Thoughts to her family."

India had last been seen outside NB's nightclub on Bridge Street in the early hours of Saturday, January 30, while out with friends.

Her body was discovered the next day.

The case of....spooky Mulder and the DVD conundrum

Lawrence John

To find more blogs and video diaries from Northants Herald & Post journalist Lawrence John visit our web-site.
@LawrenceJohnHP

One question which has been corralled in my mind for a while is why a film is always released on Blue Ray and DVD on a Monday?

You do not hear the word corralled used much anymore but Hi Ho Silver and away, you will find it right here, right now.

It's amazing how words just come into your head from out of nowhere as apposed to outer space. Speaking of outer space, this reminds me of something I saw in the X Files. In the very first episode of the new series, Mulder has his laptop open and the camera at the top on the outer edge of the screen is covered by tape.

What made me draw breath quickly, the famous sharp intake of breath was I too have the camera covered with paper and sticky tape. Was this good? Am I doing the right thing? Or am I without knowing it turning into Mulder who I have followed in the X Files for years. Spooky eh?

The other spooky thing at the moment is constantly seeing adverts which proclaim in a Charlton Heston voice when he was Moses in from film The Ten Commandments that this fantastic adventure is out on Blue Ray and DVD on Monday. It seems to have reached mythical proportions having DVDs released on Monday.

I would think releasing a film on Blue Ray or DVD on a Friday or Saturday would be the better.

As it would give people something to watch over the weekend. You go into the supermarket on a Saturday and say hello new film, I think I'll give this a watch tonight as there is nothing on the box. But if you read my choices in What's on the Box? you will see there are a few gems on television.

You see what I did there, I did a plug. I plugged something else I write. Kinda startling really. But back to the issue in hand why Blue Ray and DVDs out on Monday?

What has this to do with anything? Does anyone have an answer? ...Does anyone know the way, did we hear someone say.

We just haven't got a clue what to do. Does anyone know the way, there's got to be a way To Block Buster.

Time Travellers

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

Time Travellers have arrived on Platform 1 of Kettering Train Station and have taken up residency in their new office.

The travellers in question are Kettering Civic Society, who chose the name for their new base at the station.

The Society was formed in 1969 to encourage high standards of architecture and planning in Kettering and encourage a sense of pride in the town.

Last Friday, The High Sheriff of Northamptonshire, Dr Ahmed Ibrahim Mukhtar, joined Dan Eustace, Customer Experience Manager for East Midlands Trains and members of Kettering Civic Society, to officially open the room on platform 1.

The new facility has been provided by East Midlands Trains as part of its community engagement activity.

The Time Travellers Room will be used for exhibitions and there will be an information point providing information to promote the county and the town.

Monica Özdemir, Secretary of the Kettering

Civic Society, said: "We have for many years been looking for a base to give the Civic Society a 'face' in the community and to fulfil our objectives.

"We were delighted when East Midlands Trains offered us the use of this room at the station, and it will become a great base for the society.

"We're certain that we will get some good use out of our new facility, particularly as many new volunteers join in and the projects under the Heritage Lottery bid will start.

"The room will also form a good fundraising base aiming towards installing the Kettering Mosaic on the Newlands Shopping Centre above the car park entrance, an area of the town to be regenerated."

The Civic Society, which is a voluntary organisation, has a long history of working in partnership with Kettering station.

There will also be a public acknowledgement and

thank you to a team of Princes Trust Students, who have been carrying out work to improve the station gardens on a voluntary basis.

In 1979 Kettering Civic Society won a Civic Trust Award for work on the station gardens and 37 years later Princes Trust students worked on the same garden. They spent 10 days creating the garden and didn't give up when the weather was cold and rainy.

Dan Eustace, Customer

Experience Manager for East Midlands Trains, said: "We have worked closely with the Civic Society for many years and are very supportive of their work to promote the local area.

"We will continue to work with the society and with the Princes Trust to have more community activity at the station, including offering career advice and work experience opportunities."

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

Special NORTHAMPTON HERALD & POST Reader Offer

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Your invitation for a comprehensive consultation and examination to pinpoint the cause of your low back pain and sciatica...

Northampton Herald & Post has teamed up with the spine therapy specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre, to help readers find relief from their persistent back and sciatic pain.

All you have to do to receive a thorough diagnostic examination with the most advanced technology in the world and a comprehensive easy to understand report on your state of health is call 01234 340317.

Mention this article (CODE: NHP43SCID5) and Peter will happily reduce his usual consultation fee of £245 to just £43. But hurry, due to obvious reasons – this is a time limited offer – with only 100 reader consultations available at this exclusively discounted rate.

My advice, don't suffer a moment longer...

Find out if Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care can help you, book a consultation with Peter and his team now by calling 01234 340317, they are waiting to take your call today.

They actually treat the cause of your health problem, not just your symptoms.

That's why hundreds of grateful patients tell them "You gave me back my life!"

Over the years, they've treated thousands of patients with back problems and sciatica. The vast majority of them have enjoyed superior, lasting relief. In fact, many who've suffered and have tried other remedies have told them they gave them back their lives!

Call them now and get a full and thorough examination to pinpoint the cause of your problem for just £43, the normal cost of such an exam is £245 so you will save £202!

Don't suffer from the pain and immobility any longer. Discover the natural treatment that can eliminate the cause of your problem and give you the safe, lasting relief you deserve.

Call them now on 01234 340317 and cut out or tear off this valuable article now and take it to your appointment. You'll be entitled to a comprehensive examination to diagnose the cause of your problem – and you'll be on your way to safe, lasting relief! Don't delay your important diagnosis and treatment another moment!

You can even call on the weekend and leave a message on their answer machine to secure your spot as they promise to return all calls; and during the week they are very busy, so if they don't pick up straight away do leave a message.

Sciatica Relief Expert Peter Olsson, says: In 10 years of practice, I've never seen a treatment as effective as Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care for patients with sciatica or lower back pain

For obvious reasons they can't help everyone at this reduced price, so please call soon to secure your special opportunity.

Call 01234 340317 NOW and leave a message if it's the weekend or the line is busy - they promise they will get back to you as soon as they can. So call now on 01234 340317 and quote this special discount code: NHP43SCID5

CHILDREN'S TELEVISION: Mike has total love and pride in his and Janet, his wife's new work.

Couple's Welsh television show

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Welsh children's television series filmed in Northamptonshire has created a double act with a difference for one husband and wife duo in the county.

The husband is this case is Mike Roberts and his wife is Janet and not forgetting their dog Chico, a Jack Russell, who inspired the stories.

Janet is the the author of the books on which the series 'Chico Chugg' or as it will be known in Wales, 'Nico Nog' is based

Mike was a member of , from the hit 80s band King. The group had a string of successful albums and singles, including their biggest hit 'Love and Pride'.

DOG STAR: Chico

The couple who lives in a narrowboat in Crick have joined together for the first time to write the songs and words to the series.

The series has been produced with a Welsh and English versions. The Welsh version will be shown on Welsh national TV channel S4C from Easter Monday while the English version is being shown on the TaDaKids YouTube channel.

Mike said: "I guess living with the author, my wife and the dog all the time made sure it was not as hard as it could have been. Writing the first half a dozen was reasonably easy but when I started getting to 19, 20, 21 songs it was getting harder."

"I really enjoyed the experience of writing the songs and singing them. It was different to write songs which would be visual for the children when they watch the stories on television."

Mike's songs in the Welsh version of the show will be dubbed and sung by other singers as he himself admitted his Welsh is not that good.

Unconventional methods

On May 18 H&P Editor Steve Scoles will set out on the Cynthia Spencer London 2 Paris bike ride with four days to reach the capital of France. This is the first phase: training and fundraising.

Some of the London 2 Paris riders got together for a photocall on Saturday.

We rolled up with our cycling gear stuffed with extra layers against the cold. There's a world of difference between "I fancy a bike ride" and "I am doing nowhere near enough miles a week I'm going for a ride."

You find yourself shoe horning bike rides into your itenary no matter what the weather conditions are.

On the whole cycling gear is pretty good at sealing you off against the cold. The biggest revelation for me has been snoods. Snoods are so much better than I realised. Get a snood.

At the time of writing I haven't seen the pictures yet. If they pop up before publication I'll add them in.

There were also riders doing the Three Cities challenge in the low countries and two lads who are cycling from Rugby to Paris.

We are all slightly beset with anxiety about getting enough training done.

Interestingly the thing that seemed the most doable to me before I started was the training. I wasn't sure about how fundraising would go. My mum gave me a massive push but the unexpected generosity of people in tough times has been truly humbling.

The training has been humbling too. Really it's about clocking up hours in the saddle and trading the tolerance of everyone in the rest of your life with your tolerance of bad weather.

You have to be unconventional to fit things in. That's how I ended up cycling 20 miles to Sharnbrook to watch the Six Nations rugby with some old mates.

Without a doubt rural Northants is undulating.

You don't really notice the way the road rises and falls when you're in a car but on a bike it's pretty merciless.

So while 20 miles should not really be too much of a test for me now, the ups and downs kept me on my toes.

I can report that I made it there in one piece but the journey home later that night required a lift...

To sponsor my ride text CSLP90 £1 to 70070 or find my page on JustGiving.

I didn't realise how different and how wonderful my career and life could be.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Guilty admission

A Northants man has pleaded guilty to possessing extreme pornographic images and making and distributing abusive photographs of children.

Stephen Coleclough, 53, of Tibbs Way, Bugbrooke, was convicted at Northampton Crown Court last Thursday.

He will be sentenced in April.

Body discovery

Police in Scotland have confirmed that a body found in Edinburgh is that of London woman Saima Ahmed, who was last seen on a train bound for Northampton. The 36-year-old was found on Saturday, January 9 in Gogarstone. More online.

H&P crunches the numbers

This week Northants County Council rubberstamped £65m of cuts, while Northampton Borough Council approved a catalogue of spending. H&P reporter Nicholas Bieber outlines the budgets in detail. . .

The Good

More parking spaces, upgrades to CCTV cameras and a creative hub for up to 100 businesses will all come to life after Northampton Borough Council approved its budget.

Northants County Council's plan to reduce the original £84m of proposed cuts to its budget by £20m has also been given the go-ahead; this includes a reduction in cuts to the fire and rescue service from £1.3m to £730,000.

The borough council has rubberstamped a catalogue of spending on projects in the town including the Vulcan Works project, which will see work start on transforming a disused iron works and a collection of buildings into a hub for up to 100 cultural businesses.

Other investments given the go-ahead in £14.5m of capital schemes are a new tree management service, an extension to the opening hours of Abington Park museum, the continuation of the town's fireworks and Christmas events, an upgrade to CCTV systems, and an increase in car parking spaces.

The borough's council tax has also been frozen and funding agreed for the revamp of Northampton Museum and Art Gallery.

The county council's plan to close two care homes has been changed to only one closing.

The Bad

Despite Northampton Borough Council freezing its share of the council tax for the sixth year running, the county council is increasing its share by 3.95 per cent.

And to the disappointment of music lovers in Northampton, the borough council has decided to scrap the annual Alive @ Delapre festival, which has attracted the likes of Jessie J, Boyzone and McBusted.

The borough's cuts amount to £687,000 – £400,000 of which will be saved through internal restructuring, although there are no planned redundancies. Funding to Royal and Derngate theatre will also be slashed by £50,000.

And there will be extra charges for owners of Homes of Multiple Occupation (HMO), as well as an increase in the number of HMO licenses, which is expected to raise £70,000.

Meanwhile, the county council will be cutting subsidies for all bus routes in the county over the next four years, placing some routes – especially in rural areas – at risk. The authority hopes to replace the 'traditional' model of bus subsidies with a new 'Total Transport Model'.

Public services campaigner Norman Adams described the cuts as 'a cut into the bone' and 'slowly pushing people over the edge'.

The Ugly

Although the borough council's share of the council tax has been frozen, it has cut the tax relief which it gives to people earning the lowest income – amounting to an increase of eight per cent.

And the county council's revised plans to close down one care home instead of two will likely see Ecton Brook nursing home – operated by Olympus Care – shut its doors, leaving its 34 elderly residents with an uncertain future.

But more worryingly, especially for the dozens of campaigners who protested outside County Hall ahead of the budget-setting meeting, some £24m will be cut from the adult social care budget, which will see care packages reviewed.

The opposition Labour group said that because the authority 'pays far less than the actual cost of keeping residents in nursing homes', 'it is no wonder that many homes have been forced to close over the last few years'.

Meanwhile Cllr Danielle Stone, leader of the Labour group at the borough council, said: "Council Tax at has been frozen for six years and accumulatively this cost about £8.8 million in lost income. The Tories were wrong to freeze council tax as we need the money to pay for frontline services."

Northants wants out of European Union

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northants is one of the most Eurosceptic places in Britain, according to the first poll ahead of the EU referendum.

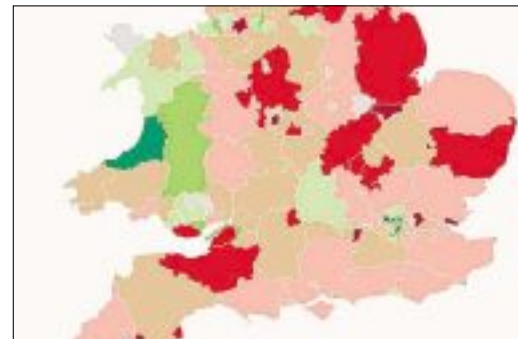

A YouGov poll of 80,000 Britons, including 883 in Northants, reveals the further south in Britain you live the more likely it is you will vote to leave the European Union on June 23.

The top ten most eurosceptic areas are all in England with Havering in London topping the list, followed by Peterborough in Cambridgeshire and Bracknell in Berkshire.

And in 15th place in the same list lies Northants, while people in neighbouring Oxfordshire are leaning towards voting to remain in the EU.

Meanwhile, the poll also shows Peterborough are second in the most eurosceptic list, alongside Milton Keynes in 14th and Central Bedfordshire in 17th.

The research shows that euroscepticism is linked to VOTING OUT: Northants appears to want Britain to leave the EU. This YouGov map shows Eurosceptic areas in red.

lower income, although it is also very strong in the more wealthy Conservative shire counties of England like Suffolk, Somerset and Lincolnshire.

In the top 10 of europhile towns and cities, Ceredigion in mid-Wales comes on top, followed by Aberdeen City and Stirling.

And overall, if a referendum was to take place today - 37 per cent would vote to remain in the EU, while 38 per cent would vote to leave.

However, although the Brexit group is slightly ahead, YouGov has warned that referendum polls this far out are 'a poor guide'.

The poll results follows Northampton South MP David Mackintosh's announcement that he would be voting to remain in the EU, along with Northampton North MP Michael Ellis. The county's five other MPs are opting to vote out of the EU.

CRIME SCENE: The body was found on January 26

Two arrests made in murder probe

Two men from Northampton have been arrested on suspicion of the murder of a man whose body was found next to the A43 in Thorplands in January. The men, aged 43 and 29, were arrested last Friday in connection with the investigation of a body that police believe is of Adeyemi Olugbuyi, who went missing three years ago. Both men were later released on police bail.

Wife-murdering cop is given sack

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Northants Police officer who was jailed for a minimum of 15 years for murdering his wife has been dismissed from the force in a 'fast track' hearing.

Adrian Goldsmith, 50, was found guilty of murdering his 49-year-old wife Jill following a trial at Stafford Crown Court in January and given a life sentence.

The unanimous jury heard how he had battered his wife repeatedly in the head with a variety of weapons before choking her with his hands at their home near the police HQ in Northampton last March.

A disciplinary hearing was held at the Wootton Hall HQ last Friday to decide whether or not to sack Mr Goldsmith.

A panel was chaired by Chief Constable Simon Edens, who said: "As chief, I am responsible for leading a force that is committed to protecting people from harm. We are particularly committed to protecting people from violence in their own homes.

"As an officer of Northants Police, PC Goldsmith represented the force, and his actions were a gross betrayal of the force's values as well as society's standards.

"His actions leave me with no other conclusion than to say he is not fit to be a police officer and is therefore dismissed without notice from the police service."

Home made from handbags

THE exclusive Fendi Baguette isn't a bakery item but an iconic bag that begat the it-bag industry.

A staple in the closet of every handbag fanatic, it'll set you back at least £1,000 and was made famous by Sex And The City's Carrie Bradshaw, who was even mugged at gunpoint for her purple sequined version.

It propelled the show and its narrator into new territory, kicking off her habit of spending more money on fashion than her home.

Still a highly coveted accessory, the bag was an instant hit in 1997 when it was launched by the Italian luxury brand which isn't afraid to court controversy. Starting life as a fur and leather shop in Rome in 1925, Fendi recently went back to its roots, sending models down the catwalk in Milan wearing fur-trimmed trainers.

The company has become a large, successful family business employing generations of Fendis. One, Guido Formilli Fendi, a grandson of founder Adele and former director of furs, has also dabbled as a racing driver and owns this restored Tuscan farmhouse

On the market for 1.35m euro in the medieval town of Cetona, it's got two big living rooms, one of which has an old fireplace, and a big kitchen with access to a garden which includes lemon trees, a goldfish pond and unusual stone caves. The three bedrooms are all en-suite and an outbuilding next door could be used as a guest apartment.

Original It girl called this home

ARISTO socialite Tara Palmer-Tomkinson can usually be found tucked up indoors these days, having an early night. It's a far cry from her years spent on the London party scene, which culminated in a £400-a-day cocaine habit and plastic surgery to rebuild her nose.

Prince Charles' god-daughter was infamous for her wild ways; in 2014 she was arrested and handcuffed by eight armed police after flying into a rage at Heathrow Airport. She blamed a panic attack on her behaviour and on the Jeremy Kyle show that year revealed that despite ditching the drugs, she still struggled with anxiety which had turned her into a virtual recluse.

At the end of last year Palmer-Tomkinson was papped, looking gaunt in a hoody and tracksuit but has recently announced she's trying her hand at clothes designing.

The one-time face of Walkers

Crisps, TPT finished runner-up on ITV's I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here! and won Comic Relief Does Fame Academy in 2007, showing off a decent singing voice. She's also a good pianist and has a baby grand piano in her swanky duplex apartment in Kensington.

While one of the original It girls, she once called this terraced one bedroom house in Fulham home, which is now on the market for £695,000. It's got a kitchen/reception room with spiral staircase in the corner, 16ft south facing roof terrace and resident's parking.

Near Parsons Green and Fulham Broadway, agent Strutt & Parker says that in a former life it used to be a sweet shop.

Dining in style at Naked Chef's pad

You might enjoy trying out Jamie Oliver's recipes but how about sliding down the same spiral staircase as the young cheeky chappie in his first TV show?

The Naked Chef saw Oliver rustling something up in the kitchen of this trendy three-bedroom home where he'd dish up the nosh for friends and family.

Oliver, who's now equally famous for campaigning to introduce sugar tax and tackle childhood obesity, admitted wife Jools "didn't exist" in series one. The father-of-four, then 22, said the former model was kept away in the bedroom as TV execs wanted to suggest he was single.

Oliver moved up the property ladder in 2001 - with his new home featuring in the first episode of season three. Now the family are on the move again, after putting their townhouse on the market for £12m. Oliver knocked through two adjoining houses to create a 10-bedroom family home in Primrose Hill, but now the chef, who is thought to be worth £180m, has bought a seven-bedroom property near Hampstead, which is being renovated.

The first pad, in Clerkenwell, is on the market for £2.75m, it's still got the spiral staircase although the kitchen has been refurbished since appearing in the 1999 cookery show.

There's a gym on the ground floor, garage, storage room, built-in study and utility room. The master bedroom is on the top floor, boasting a dressing room and en-suite bathroom.

Another double bedroom has an en-suite shower room, while the agent says a new mezzanine could be used as an extra bedroom or reception.

HOT

In need of baggy trousers

LEGENDARY ska band Madness memorably set their 1982 top ten hit 'Our House' in a Victorian terraced house, where Suggs and co bashed out the tune in the living room.

A few months ago, the house which took the video's starring role went on the market and was snapped up for £565,000 within days – no doubt helped by the owner's listing which was full of musical references, beginning: "Welcome to our 'House of Fun'... It's 'One Step Beyond' the norm for the area."

The house is in a photogenic tree-lined cul-de-sac in North West London which has long been in demand with film directors. Stephenson Street features in The Ipcress Files and the Likely Lads and next month appears in Hugh Jackman's new film Eddie the Eagle about the British skier who, in 1988, became the first competitor to represent Great Britain in Olympic ski jumping. Michael Edwards finished last in the 70m and 90m events, but became famous for his heroic failure – he was very long-sighted, forcing him to wear glasses that fogged up so badly that he couldn't see during jumps.

Another two-bed terraced house in the street is now for sale at £600,000. Recently decorated with a modern kitchen/diner and large open plan reception room, it overlooks woodland where a community urban orchard and garden is planned for the spring.

Closer to home there's a little oasis in the back garden which was designed by TV presenter and Chelsea Flower Show gold medal winner Joe Swift.

Make transfer to Sven's footy flat

FORMER England boss Sven-Goran Eriksson seems to be on a mission to encourage Premier League players to up sticks and join him in China.

Eriksson, 67, manages big-spending Shanghai SIPG and reckons Man United star Wayne Rooney and Chelsea's John Terry would love it in Asia.

Famous off the pitch for his relationships with Nancy Dell'Olio and Ulrika Jonsson, Eriksson moved to China in 2013 when he took charge of Guangzhou R&F. A year later he became boss at Shanghai and led them to a second-placed finish in the league.

Back in 2001, the Swede became the first foreign manager of the English national team but left after their World Cup exit in 2006. The well-travelled manager has worked all over the world and moved to Notts County in 2009 for a year, living in this three-bedroom apartment.

Near Nottingham Racecourse and Colwick Country Park, this ground-floor pad on the River Crescent Development has river views and is open plan with French doors from the living area onto a terrace. The kitchen is just off the living area and connected by a breakfast bar. Its en-suite master bedroom boasts built-in wardrobes, while two more double bedrooms have river views.

Residents can use a gym, leisure and spa facilities, indoor heated swimming pool and business suite. There's also a private parking space with the flat, which could be yours for £525,000.

Treat your mum in this fab competition

TOP PRIZE: Enter our Mother's Day competition

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

Beautiful Boughton House is offering readers of the Northants Herald & Post the chance to snap up a special gift for mum this Mother's Day.

The Estate, home to the Duke of Buccleuch, is giving away a pair of tickets to the upcoming Easter House and Gardens opening, plus a package of goodies from the Gift Shop in the 18th century stable block.

Snap up tasty treats, including Boughton-branded biscuits, traditional preserves and a mix-up of sweetie favourites, plus a selection of the shop's best-selling souvenirs.

The winner will also receive two tickets to Boughton's Easter opening to enjoy the Brand new Great Hall Tour, restored Gardens and world-renowned Armoury.

Boughton House and Gardens will open over Easter Weekend (26th-28th March). Guided House tours will begin at 1pm, with the last tour at 3.30pm.

The Great Hall Tour, plus entry to the Gardens and Armoury costs £10 for adults, £8 for children and £30 for families (2+2). Children under five go free.

The Gardens will open between 12pm-5pm, with last entry at 4pm.

Tickets cost £6 for adults, £3 for children and £14 for families (2+2). As an added bonus, Gardens ticket holders will also gain access to the Armoury.

Tickets for the special openings can be booked in advance by calling 01536 515 731 or purchased on a first come, first served basis at the kiosk on the day.

Visit www.boughtonhouse.co.uk for more information.

To be in with a chance of scooping Boughton's Mother's Day package, just follow us on Twitter @NorthamptonUK and on today, we will tweet a question.

All you have to do is answer the tweet and a lucky winner from all those we receive will be picked at random. We will then tweet the winner to say they have won.

WHAT'S ON ROUND-UP

Tickets to see Shane Filan could be yours

This is your chance to go and see Ex-Westlife singer Shane Filan at The Royal & Derngate on Saturday.

The Northants Herald & Post has three pairs of tickets to give away to three lucky readers who want to go and see Shane in concert.

In the wake of releasing his hit album, Right Here in September 2015, Shane Filan has announced a major indoor UK Tour taking in some of the UK's best loved venues and the tour is will be in Northampton on Saturday.

Shane said: "I am thrilled to be getting out on the road in March 2016. This is going to be quite a tour. I am really proud of Right Here and now can't wait to perform the new songs live, alongside some old favourites. I am very much looking forward to coming to Northampton. It's exciting to be performing across the UK & Ireland.

"For me, there is nothing quite like the moment I see the audience singing along to the songs I wrote, and I hope the Right Here Tour will be just as memorable."

If you want to be in with a chance then all you have to do is follow us on Twitter @NorthamptonUK.

Today, we will tweet the question to this exciting competition. All you have to do is tweet us your answer.

Three lucky people who tweet in the correct answer will be selected at random and we will let you know you have won.

For more information and tickets about Shane's shows visit www.shanefilan.com

Shane and Jessie in thrilling crime drama

ON STAGE: Jessie Wallace and Shane Ritchie are the stars in The Perfect Murder

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Well-known from their roles in EastEnders, Shane Richie and Jessie Wallace will appear on stage together for the very first time in Peter James' The Perfect Murder, which comes to Northampton's Royal & Derngate from Monday, March 14 to Saturday, March 19.

Directed by Olivier Award-winner Ian Talbot and adapted by award-winning writer Shaun McKenna, this highly acclaimed dark comedy thriller tours the UK again in 2016, having delighted and frightened audiences across the country in 2014 with its darkly funny and gripping storyline.

The Perfect Murder tells the story of Victor Smiley and his wife Joan who have been married for a long time. But their marriage has reached crisis point and Victor has decided there is only one way to get Joan out of his life forever... but he's about to get a nasty surprise...

As a young Detective Roy Grace starts to investigate his very first homicide case, dark forces intervene and Grace begins to fear that nothing is quite as it seems quite as it seems.

International bestselling crime thriller novelist Peter James has achieved No.1 best sellers around the world, has sold over 16 million books of his Roy Grace series, and is published in 36 languages. The Perfect Murder spent 15 weeks at No 1, remaining for 50 weeks in the iBooks Top 10 and his most recent novel, You Are Dead, quickly reached No 1 in the Fiction charts.

Award-winning actors, Shane Richie and Jessie Wallace, have starred together in EastEnders for the last 13 years and their impending return to Albert Square was recently announced. They are also both well known for their numerous other TV and theatre credits and are equally excited by their upcoming stage debut together.

The Perfect Murder comes to Derngate stage from Monday 14 to Saturday 19 March. Tickets are priced from £13 to £31.

Call the Box Office on 01604 624811 or online at www.royalaldderngate.co.uk.

Quintessential jazz from Alison Rayner

Alison Rayner and her quintet will be performing their diverse collection of original tunes with wider influences from bebop, folk, and Afro-Cuban dance music live at The Castle in Wellingborough tonight, March 3 at 8pm.

Alison's recently recorded first CD as leader, August, recorded live at London's Vortex Jazz Club, has received rave reviews.

In her Wellingborough performance, she will be joined by four of her closest musical companions, Steve Lodder (piano), Buster Birch (drums), Diane McLoughlin (saxophones) and Deirdre Cartwright (guitar).

Tickets are priced £12.50 (£10.50) and can be purchased by calling the Box Office on 01933 270 007 or online at www.thecastle.org.uk

The People v O J Simpson

The People v O J Simpson is in my opinion, the most gripping programme of television at the moment.

You will find it on Monday evening at 9pm on BBC 2. If you have not seen it yet I would appeal to you to watch the first three episodes on catch up tv.

While the facts of the case and the verdict are known to a great majority of viewers, it is still essential watching.

For the viewers who know what is coming each turn is still a surprise and each twist a cliff hanger.

I have to say there is something mesmeristic about the drama. I think it simply boils down to the writing and the acting.

It is just perfect. You have John Travolta as Robert Shapiro, David Schwimmer as Robert Kardashian, Courtney B Vance as Johnnie Cochran, Sarah Paulson as Marcia Clark and Cuba Gooding as O J Simpson.

Each episode flies by so fast I cannot believe I have been watching for an hour. Every time an episode ends I want to watch more. I am addicted to it.

All the information we are given in each episode is not wasted. At no time do you think why are they doing this scene or telling us this? No, the action moves forward swiftly and never stops.

Audi ahead in space race

Space may be the final frontier, but for customers exploring the all-new, and newly available, Audi A4 Avant it is likely to be one of the first and foremost considerations. Fortunately the five-door version of What Car? Magazine's 2016 Car of the Year proves to be a star in this respect, offering the most expansive seats-up luggage capacity in the premium compact executive sector to complement the quality, technological ingenuity and optimal efficiency for which the A4 is already renowned.

The even more versatile A4 can now be ordered at prices ranging from £27,300 OTR to £40,350 OTR, and retention of these original values is likely to be another important consideration for prospective purchasers. Here, too, the A4 Avant doesn't disappoint, with leading trade guide CAP Monitor predicting that the majority of versions will achieve residual values that are either strongest in the premium compact estate class or unbeaten in the class.

As an example the A4 Avant 2.0 TDI ultra Sport 190PS – the expected best-seller in the range – is predicted to retain 40 per cent of its value after three years or 60,000 miles, ahead of its key premium sector rivals.

The all-new A4 Avant intelligently integrates a class-leading 505 litres of luggage capacity – extending to 1,510 litres with the seats folded – into a capacious interior that now affords even more head and shoulder room for front seat occupants and offers an increase in overall rear leg room compared to its predecessor.

Among the technological highlights are the optional Audi virtual cockpit with its fully digital, absolutely flicker-free display, and optional Matrix LED headlamps capable of establishing and tracking multiple road users and illuminating the appropriate corridors of lights either side of them to maintain maximum visibility without dazzling other drivers.

Highlights of the options list also include a 19-speaker, 755-watt Bang & Olufsen audio system with 3D sound, Audi Entertainment mobile incorporating two detachable touch-screen tablet computers built into the rear seats, and the Audi phone box bringing two separate Bluetooth connections and wireless smartphone charging.

These can be added to the three 'core' specification levels SE, Sport and S line, each of which offers either Xenon or LED headlamps with LED daytime running lights, along with features including three-zone climate control, cruise control, rear parking sensors and the Audi smartphone interface, which supports Apple CarPlay and Android Auto platforms and displays smartphone contact and information such as navigation mapping on the A4's seven-inch colour MMI screen.

The Avant engine line-up will initially include a wide choice of 2.0 litre and 3.0-litre TDI engines with outputs starting from 150PS and rising to 272PS. The refined and responsive 1.4-litre TFSI petrol engine at the entry point to the A4 Saloon range will also become available to Avant customers slightly behind the first phase in April 2016.

MINI Clubman

Take a look inside...

The Clubman was launched in 2007 as the first truly practical MINI but came with one key drawback: you couldn't have two rear passenger doors. This second generation model not only corrects that oversight but is also smarter, better equipped, higher-tech and more efficient. But it joins a range that, in the Hatch 5-Door and Countryman models, already boasts similar design of this type. Can it stand out?

MINIs have always been known for handling excellence and this MK2 model Clubman should be no exception. Based on the same 'UKL' platform as the BMW 2-Series Active Tourer and measuring the same distance between the wheels, it offers sophisticated suspension with what is promised to be the highest level of ride refinement ever for a MINI.

There's a familiar range of engines under the bonnet. The usual three cylinder 1.5 litre 136PS petrol unit features in the standard Cooper alongside a 2.0 litre 192PS four cylinder petrol engine for the pokier Cooper S. The Cooper D diesel gets a 2.0-litre unit with 150PS and all engines are turbocharged and offer 0-62mph in less than 10 seconds. The quickest option will be the Cooper S 0-62mph possible in as little as 7.1 seconds.

Standard with all three engines is a six-speed manual gearbox - with automatic transmission an option on all. The smallest three cylinder motor can be optioned with a 'Steptronic' auto that offers six ratios, while the 2.0 litre units both get the option of an eight-speed auto 'box that includes steering wheel-mounted paddles.

There's no disputing that from the outside, the Clubman still looks like a MINI, even though it's actually longer than the Countryman Crossover model. If anything, the Clubman's increased length and width helps stretch this intriguing take on MINI design language, making it to some eyes even more attractive than the basic Hatch versions. The key change that owners of the previous generation models will notice is the availability at last of two rear passenger doors, both fitted with frameless windows for a coupe (or old school Subaru) feel.

The designers have done their damndest to make this second generation Clubman a distinct and desirable model in its own right. The result is characterful but distinctly MINI - just as potential buyers will want.

Citroen Relay Ready to Run Range Extended

Citroen's 'Relay Ready to Run' range of ready-bodied vehicles is being expanded and an all-new Euro 6 engine line-up is being introduced at the Commercial Vehicle Show (full details of these new engines will be available nearer the time of the CV Show). Now joining the established range of high-specification, competitively priced tippers, dropsides and Luton vans in the Relay Ready to Run range are a new 'Plant & Go,' small plant carrier, a new car transporter and two new Crew Vans. One of the major advantages of the 3.5 tonne gvw KFS Special Vehicles Plant & Go conversion, for many fleets, is that it eliminates the need for a trailer, which is often seen as a costly capital investment.

Renault Scenic — Europe's First Compact MPV

Renault's game-changing Scenic is celebrating 20 years of providing millions of families with innovative, forward-thinking transport. It continues to be the benchmark in the competitive compact MPV sector that it created back in 1996. Since its introduction, the Scenic has become synonymous with family motoring at its very best, selling over five million examples that have engaged all occupants in a travel experience built on freedom and discovery to be enjoyed together. Set to be unveiled on 1st March 2016 at the Geneva

Motor Show, the fourth-generation Renault Scenic will continue the legacy of its predecessors, taking inspiration from the dynamic R-Space concept car unveiled in 2011

VOLKSWAGEN CADDY – WITH NATURAL GAS AND DSG

The new Caddy TGI BlueMotion from Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles is the first vehicle in its segment to be equipped with a dual-clutch gearbox. The Hanover-based manufacturer will present this new combination of an alternative natural-gas drive system and six-speed DSG as a world premiere at the 2016 Geneva International Motor Show. The Caddy TGI BlueMotion, a family/city delivery van that runs on either CNG or bio-natural gas, is, besides its manual gearbox, now available for the first time with the DSG dual-clutch gearbox, which makes it unique in its segment. Both the panel van and passenger car variant of the Caddy can also be ordered with a short wheelbase or in the Caddy Maxi version.

New Renault Megane Sport Tourer

The 2016 Geneva International Motor Show will see Renault reveal its new MEGANE Sport Tourer in the form of the range's Sport Tourer GT version. Based on the new MEGANE, this all-new Sport Tourer is both elegant and sporty. It boasts an intuitive, modular interior with a choice of boot arrangements, as well as the segment's longest maximum load length. The design of the new MEGANE Sport Tourer blends dynamism and style, enhanced by a chrome trim around the side windows and C-pillar. It also features a distinctive C-shaped lighting signature at the front.

Vauxhall World Premieres GT Concept and Mokka X At Geneva

Vauxhall will unveil its GT Concept at the 2016 Geneva Motor Show, revealing a vision for the future sports car. There will also be a world premiere of the all-new Mokka X alongside the Astra range, including Sports Tourer, five-door hatchback models and a new BiTurbo engine. As usual the show, which opens its doors to the public from 3rd to 13th March, begins with two press days. Opel Group CEO, Dr Karl-Thomas Neumann and his team are inviting all journalists to the Vauxhall/Opel press conference on 1st March at 11:00 CET on stand 2231 in hall number 2 of the Palexpo.

Maserati Levante

Maserati has revealed the exterior form of the Levante, the first SUV in the brand's more than one hundred year history: the new model completes the existing range of saloon and sports cars, extending the offering together with the Quattroporte, Ghibli, GranTurismo and GranCabrio models. The design of the Levante features clear associations with the Maserati brand and its distinctive Italian character. When it comes to power units, the Levante is equipped with both petrol and diesel engines that are all Euro6-compliant. The first cars have already come off the assembly line with the launch planned for this spring in Europe, to be followed by the rest of the world later this year.

TEACHER OF ENGLISH

Full-time, to start September 2016

Rated GOOD by Ofsted in November 2015, Biddenham International School & Sports College is a friendly and inclusive, multicultural school. Departments are well resourced and dedicated staff foster deep learning within our close knit learning community. In September 2015 we opened our contemporary state-of-the-art building to welcome an intake of Year 7 students who will benefit from an exciting and innovative curriculum.

We are seeking a motivated, hardworking and engaging Teacher of English who is able to enthuse young people in their learning journey. Candidates should be practitioners who can help us in our drive to further improve an excellent department. The role will involve teaching across Key Stages 3-5. The successful candidate must:

- have a passion for English
- be dedicated to improving the learning outcomes of all students
- be creative and innovative
- be able to inspire young people

Applications are welcome from NQTs and experienced practitioners and visits to the school are most welcome. We look forward to meeting you.

Closing date: 14th March 2016 at 9.00am

Job description and application forms are available to download from the school's website www.biddenham.beds.sch.uk. Please send applications for the attention of Julie Shepherd or by email to hr@biddenham.beds.sch.uk.

Biddenham School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. The successful applicant will be subject to an Enhanced DBS check, references and other checks.

TEACHER OF PHYSICS

Full-time, to start September 2016

Rated GOOD by Ofsted in November 2015, Biddenham International School & Sports College is a friendly and inclusive, multicultural school. Departments are well resourced and dedicated staff foster deep learning within our close knit learning community. In September 2015 we opened our contemporary state-of-the-art building to welcome an intake of Year 7 students who will benefit from an exciting and innovative curriculum.

We wish to appoint a teacher of Science with a Physics specialism to join our highly driven and supportive team. The role will include delivering all three Sciences at GCSE and Physics at A-level. There is scope for the right candidate to progress quickly and assume additional responsibilities in the development and delivery of the Physics curriculum. The successful candidate will be:

- an outstanding teacher of Physics
- committed to improving outcomes for all students
- passionate about learning and teaching
- innovative and creative
- a positive leader able to inspire and motivate others

If you are motivated and want to work with us to make a difference to the lives of our students then we want to hear from you. Visitors to the school are welcome.

TEACHER OF GEOGRAPHY

Full-time, to start September 2016

Rated GOOD by Ofsted in November 2015, Biddenham
International School & Sports College is a friendly and inclusive, multicultural school.
Departments are well resourced and dedicated staff foster deep learning within our close knit learning community. In September 2015 we opened our contemporary state-of-the-art building to welcome an intake of Year 7 students who will benefit from an exciting and innovative curriculum.

We are seeking to appoint a well-qualified, enthusiastic and engaging professional to the role of Teacher of Geography. The Geography Department work collaboratively to provide high standards of learning and teaching for every student. This exciting post will involve teaching across all key stages and help the drive to further improve an excellent department. The successful candidate must:

- have a passion for Geography
- be dedicated to improving the learning outcomes of all students
- be committed to contributing to the wider curriculum
- be able to inspire the next generation of geographers

Applications are welcome from NQTs and experienced practitioners and visits to the school are most welcome. We look forward to meeting you.

Closing date: 14th March 2016 at 9.00am

Job description and application forms are available to download from the school's website www.biddenham.beds.sch.uk. Please send applications for the attention of Julie Shepherd or by email to hr@biddenham.beds.sch.uk.

Biddenham School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. The successful applicant will be subject to an Enhanced DBS check, references and other checks.

Cobblers have to refocus for run-in

GRIPPED BY THE COBBLERS

BY TOM REED
sport@isnmedia.co.uk

Draws against Hartlepool and AFC Wimbledon ended Northampton's astounding ten-game winning streak and now the Cobblers have to refocus for a thrilling title run-in.

Chris Wilder's side remain a solid 11 points clear of second-placed Oxford United and with breathing space of 19 points to Accrington Stanley in fourth, who take up the first play-off position.

Still, the shoe army have had a wake-up call if they thought Town were to romp away with the title with four points dropped from a pair of tough matches against Pools and the Dons.

A 0-0 draw in the North East last Saturday against Craig Hignett's Hartlepool showed just how much Cobblers are missing injured star striker Marc Richards, but Town would have undoubtedly lost against an industrious Pools outfit in previous seasons. Indeed, Cobblers are displaying sensible match management despite showing signs of squad fatigue.

Play-off chasing AFC Wimbledon showed how much a target top placed Town are by putting in an energetic shift the following Tuesday in a match which ended 1-1.

In addition to the crocked Richards, Cobblers have undoubtedly suffered from the 'holy trinity' of Richards, Ricky Holmes and John-Joe O'Toole being broken up due to injury.

O'Toole's return from a couple of matches out was a boost and the midfielder opened the scoring with a simple tap-in from Joel Byrom's teasing corner on the cusp of half time.

Wimbledon's Lyle Taylor secured a well-earned point for the Dons with a 62nd minute solo humdinger that saw him strip Zander Diamond for pace before curling into the top left hand corner of Adam Smith's net.

All the post-match talk, however, surrounded referee Phil Gibbs who was booed off after failing to give a penalty when Dons goalkeeper Kelle Roos appeared to tell John Marquis in the box.

Quite what Derby loanee Roos was doing with his hands if not chopping down substitute Marquis is anyone's guess with Gibbs capping Oscars week with a nomination for worst refereeing performance.

The back-breaking Saturday-Tuesday slog has ended, meaning Town can take each match as it comes as they hunt down the title crown.

Taylor cuts Town to size but push goes on

NORTHAMPTON TOWN 1
AFC WIMBLEDON 1

Northampton Town were given a further reminder that promotion is not going to come easy as they were held at home by AFC Wimbledon, a side whose recent form is almost as good as the Cobblers.

The Dons had won seven out of their previous nine games and showed just why they have propelled themselves into play-off contention in what was an absorbing match at Sixfields.

After ten wins on the trot, this was the second draw in a row for Northampton, but results elsewhere mean their fans are still rubbing their eyes in disbelief at the league table.

With Plymouth and Accrington both losing, they are now 11 points clear of second and 19 ahead of fourth, but that wasn't the only reason for them being incredulous.

Furious might have been the better word, however, after they were denied what looked an obvious penalty, but there were plenty of times where hearts were in mouths at the other end.

Tom Elliott showed his pace up front for AFC Wimbledon in the second minute when he got in behind down the right before drawing a smart save out of Adam Smith.

It was certainly a fast start from the visitors, whose top scorer Lyle Taylor got away down the same side before, realising he had no support, fired a shot from a narrow angle that Smith had to push behind.

EVENLY MATCHED: Cobblers' James Collins tussles with Dons defender Ryan Sweeney

It wasn't quite clicking in the final third for the Cobblers but they came extremely close to opening the scoring after 34 minutes when Dons 'keeper Kelle Roos did brilliantly to keep out James Collin's downward header from David Buchanan's cross.

Just when we looked set for a goalless first half, Northampton went ahead when John-Joe O'Toole was able to force Joel Byrom's corner over the line at the back post to lift the mood.

The Dons had no time to respond before the break, but began the second half well with Smith having to keep out Elliott's header from George Francomb's corner.

Northampton came within a whisker of doubling their lead when Zander Diamond's header from Adams' corner was headed off the line by Barry Fuller.

How crucial that turned out to be as Wimbledon equalised within a minute and Diamond was culpable as he misjudged a ball forward, which allowed Taylor in behind and he curled superbly into the top corner.

Then followed a spell where the visitors battered their hosts as Brendan Moloney sliced a Francomb free kick wide of his own post before Paul Robinson headed against the post from another set-piece.

Elliott slammed a shot wide from Taylor's cut-back, but Northampton survived the siege and were denied what looked a stone-wall penalty when John Marquis went over Roos' challenge.

There was no let-up in the action and as the shoe army howled their disapproval at that decision, Jake Reeves played in Taylor, but Smith came out to make a good save.

There was then another scare as Luke Prosser deflected Andy Barcham's effort just wide of the near post as a frantic finish ensued with neither team settling for a point, although a this cracking contest was to eventually finish all square.

Wilder not going to focus on referee after great match

WON'T COMPLAIN: Chris Wilder preferred to focus

Chris Wilder didn't want the performance of the referee to detract from the quality of the match after his Northampton Town side drew 1-1 with AFC Wimbledon at Sixfields.

One of the major talking points from what was a terrific match between two in-form teams came after 76 minutes when John Marquis went over the challenge of Wimbledon goalkeeper Kelle Roos in the penalty area.

To the amazement of the majority in the ground, Northampton appeals were waved away, but a point was probably the fair result in what was a great advert for League Two.

Following a contest where both sides went all out for victory, Wilder said: "It certainly looked [a penalty] from where I was and I think you always look at the reaction of the players around a decision and the supporters and it was to a man, it wasn't half-hearted.

"But the referee feels he has the best view of it when I spoke to him afterwards, so you have to go with that.

"We didn't get that one, but I don't really want to major on the ref. That's how it is and maybe he's not had a great night, but it was a quick game, the tempo of the game was really fast.

"They changed their shape a little bit and played a narrow three in there and made it difficult for us, but when we got it out of the middle and out wide I thought we caused them problems.

"For their point of view, our two centre halves have had a real tough night because [Tom] Elliott and [Lyle] Taylor, who scored the goal, were a handful all night."

Northampton have swept all before them in recent months in racing to 11 points clear at the top of League Two, but Wimbledon posed them problems that promotion rivals like Plymouth and Oxford couldn't.

The fact that their line-up, fresh off five changes made by Wilder after last Saturday's draw with Hartlepool, posed a threat themselves made for a match that you couldn't take your eyes off.

Wilder praised his opponents after the final whistle, saying: "I think you can see that both teams are form teams in the division, who are fully committed for each football club.

"I fully hope Neal [Ardley] goes well towards the end of the season because they've got a good group and they're a strong outfit and it was a tough night for us. "We know now that all the games right the way through are not going to be easy and we'll just have to keep ploughing on.

"We extended our lead tonight, so that's a plus. In this position with so few games left to go, it's a decent situation to be in.

On the performance of referee Phil Gibbs as a whole, Wilder said: "I think both managers and both sets of supporters can have concerns about the performance and maybe he shouldn't really get the headlines and the limelight because it was two teams, who have gone really well."

CALLING SHOTS: Dylan Hartley is unbeaten as England captain

Auld enemies lift up weekend after false start

On Friday night, fans of the Six Nations were despairing at the lack of quality seen in the championship, but mercifully the weekend eventually saw some rugby break out.

It started with a match that must have made the southern hemisphere feel very superior as a predictable Wales did just enough, and nothing more, to see off a French side bereft of attacking ideas by defeating them 19-10.

It made for a turgid watch and, in a way, it got the try it deserved as Northampton's George North, in chasing down Jonathan Davies' kick ahead, produced an air shot in trying to hack the ball on, only for it to rebound off Jules Plisson back into his path.

England v Ireland burst into life in the second half with Anthony Watson and Mike Brown scoring the tries as the hosts hit back in style after going behind to Connor Murray's opening score to eventually win 21-10.

While the discipline of some of his teammates may have come into question, Dylan Hartley's didn't as the Red Rose made it three wins from three under his captaincy.

Courtney Lawes' brief cameo at the end provided the other Northampton presence as Paul Hill was an unused replacement.

Italy are surely heading for the wooden spoon after they were defeated 36-20 by Scotland, who won for the first time in ten Six Nations matches.

Pisi looking to build his season to a crescendo

RUGBY UNION

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@lnmedia.co.uk

Ken Pisi admits his own season has been disappointing so far, but the Samoan winger is looking for a big finish to the campaign with Northampton Saints.

Pisi has had to deal with a couple of injuries and only came back from his most recent knock in last Saturday's 38-18 win over Worcester, but has otherwise been in and out of the team.

With players like George North, Jamie Elliott and Tom Collins to compete against for his position, the 27-year-old has had to wait on the sidelines at times, which has proved frustrating.

But he produced his most effective display of the season against Worcester, as Northampton scored six tries to move within three points of the Premiership's top four.

Pisi said: "I haven't really played as much as I wanted to, but getting back out there with the boys and playing well was awesome."

"There's a lot of competition within our positions and when you get that opportunity you've just got to make the most of it."

"I've had a few niggles and everyone has been playing well – it's been tough sometimes just to get into the team."

"You're always going to have your downs, but getting back up was a work-on for me this season and I'm slowly getting back up there."

Pisi showed signs of the form that made him a regular choice last season against Worcester and was unfortunate to have a try ruled out due to obstruction by Stephen Myler in the closing stages.

Drier conditions in recent weeks have led to Saints' backs being able to display their talents after a long spell of being forced to wait in frustration out in the rain while the ball stayed amongst the forwards.

Pisi said: "It has been opening up a bit more – in a way, we knew it was going to be a bit like that due to the conditions, but the backs are excited now."

"The sun's coming out, the pitches are getting firmer and we just want to go out there and show what we are made of."

"It was good [against Worcester], it just felt like the Saints of old on Saturday, playing with a lot of space."

Northampton will be hoping to take that kind of form to Allianz Park against Saracens, against whom the stakes always seem to be high.

The Premiership champions and league leaders have had some key men unavailable to them in recent weeks, which has led to them showing signs of weakness for the first time all season.

Pisi said: "It's always a big game and it's the current champs against the former champs. It should be good."

"My first game there was the semi-final [in 2013, which Saints won 27-13]. We went there to win, but there and demolished them so hopefully there's a repeat on Saturday."

"Sarries are at home and they're always tough and they've got a good squad, we're not underestimating that, but we've got a fair chance that we can pull out another win."

STOP START: Ken Pisi has been in and out of Saints' team this season

NSB reach a second Twickenham final in four years in nerve-jangler

The Northampton School for Boys 1st XV came through a nail-biting semi-final against Bloxham School last Saturday to clinch their spot in the final of the NatWest U18s Vase at Twickenham.

A thrilling match at Allianz Park, home of Premiership champions Saracens, finished 20-20 after 80 minutes with NSB progressing due to them scoring the first try of the contest.

Bloxham went 3-0 ahead with an early penalty, but NSB grew into the half and went into the break 12-3 ahead thanks to tries by Jake Johnson and Jake Diggin.

NSB's dreams were thrown into jeopardy as Bloxham came back to lead 15-12, but Conor Tupai then set up Johnson's second try of the game.

But Bloxham mounted one last attack, which led to their full back scoring off the final play to level to score, but their kicker missed the chance to snatch victory with the conversion.

They will now face St Ambrose College at Twickenham on Wednesday 16 March, with the match kicking off at 2:00pm.

Jim Mallinder happy with his back row options as flanker has further surgery

Clark out for the season

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

Northampton Saints director of rugby Jim Mallinder is happy with the back row options at his disposal after finding out flanker Calum Clark would miss the rest of the season.

The 26-year-old has suffered a complication in his recovery from a shoulder injury that has prevented him from turning out for Saints in the campaign and has had further surgery.

It's a terrible blow for Clark, whose season started with receiving his first England cap in the World Cup warm-up against France in August, but effectively ended when he suffered his injury in a pre-season friendly against Wasps in October.

The absence of the man who was voted Saints' player of the year last season has given opportunities to others and Mallinder believes he is well covered.

He said: "It's unfortunate for Calum, he's had a setback in his shoulder injury, so he's had to go under the knife on Monday and unfortunately he's out for the season.

"It's a blow for us and I feel sorry for Calum because it's been one on those years. He's worked his way back to fitness and we were hoping he was only a week or two off being fit, but it just wasn't getting right so unfortunately he's had to go back in.

"But he'll come back stronger and now he's got no rush to get back in a way, he's got all pre-season to help his recovery and rehab and it's just opportunities for other people.

"We've got a good squad and the other lads are playing awesome as well - Tom Wood and Jamie Gibson have fantastic games week in week

NO LUCK: Calum Clark has been unable to play since injuring his shoulder during a pre-season friendly out."

One player who has taken his chance is Teimana Harrison, who before this season found himself on the fringes of the team but has become a key member who can operate at openside or No. 8.

Mallinder said: "He's taken that opportunity where before he was just below and now he's played a number of games and working on different parts of his game and clearly seeing his play at the weekend [against Worcester].

"He was fantastic in terms of attack, carrying the ball, passing at the right times and some fantastic defensive work.

"He's always been able to carry the ball and run hard. I think what he's worked on is his tackle technique, when to compete for the ball and when not to and his distribution."

Northampton have a key game ahead of them on Saturday at Premiership champions Saracens, where they will be able to call upon Courtney Lawes and Paul Hill after they were released from England's squad.

Sarries will have fellow internationals Jamie George and Alex Goode available to them at Allianz Park, where Saints have already won twice since first playing there in 2013.

Mallinder said: "It just gives us some further options and we've been pleased in our second row with how they are going, in terms of Christian Day, Victor Matfield and James Craig.

"Of course, to have Courtney Lawes back gives us another option and clearly, in the front row with Paul Hill, I think it's good that he's come back. He's probably not played enough game time, really, over the last few weeks so I think he does need to get out there and play."

Promotion not on the minds of Town's players

Despite drawing 1-1 with AFC Wimbledon on Tuesday night, Northampton Town saw their position at the top of League Two strengthened - but left back David Buchanan isn't talking about promotion just yet.

It turned out to be a point gained for the Cobblers rather than two dropped as defeats for Plymouth and Accrington left them 11 points clear of second and 19 ahead of fourth.

It has meant that two draws following a ten-game winning streak have not done any damage to their promotion push, but Buchanan isn't paying too much attention to the league table.

He said: "I don't think we're talking about promotion, we're just talking about getting as many points as possible in the remaining games.

"We're very strong at home, we've been showing that all season in front of our own fans, who get behind us. Tonight was another point on the board and it's another great effort from the lads after the games we've had in previous weeks."

There was one big moment of controversy with 14 minutes left when John Marquis went down under Wimbledon goalkeeper Keele Roos' challenge, but no penalty was awarded.

Buchanan said: "I thought it was a penalty from where I was, but I am playing at left back and I'm like 40 yards away from it.

"He [Marquis] is an honest player, he takes a touch, the keeper commits himself and you think it's a penalty. Everyone in the crowd goes up, but the referee doesn't give it and you've just got to move on."
